REVIEW OF THE WILMINGTON MARKET, FOR THE WEEK ENDING APRIL 18TH, 1860.

TURPENTINE-In this article we have no change to report as regards prices. The quantity brought in has been light, and there has existed a steady demand from both shippers and distillers, parcels having found ready sale on arrival at $2 60 for dip, $2 08 for dry virgin, and $1,55 for hard, per 280 lbs. For new virgin the market has opened considerably lower than last season, one or two small lots having been received and sold at $3; it will, however, be some
